2010 March Newsletter

Web Template Progress

In the last newsletter, we mentioned development of new web templates by Totali Ltd.

This has generated a bit of interest, so just a quick note that we plan to have some test pages up for you to try in April, with version 1 of the templates available for purchase late April.

You will be able to see these soon on our test server: <http://www.ararimu.com> (that's the same place where you can upload files to us). These templates will require FileMaker Server 9, 10 or 11 and have the web-publishing engine correctly configured and enabled.

Athenaeum Light 10 testing

Soon, we will be inviting Athenaeum Light users to try out Athenaeum Light 10 and tell us what they think (good and bad). Athenaeum Light 10, amongst other things, brings a new look and feel; a new "engine" for better compatibility with modern operating systems; support for bigger screens (some new computers have massive screens); and more.

If you would like to have an early look at Athenaeum Light 10, please e-mail us at the support address at the bottom of this newsletter.

FileMaker Pro 11

FileMaker Inc. have released version 11 of FileMaker Pro, FileMaker Pro Advanced, FileMaker Server, FileMaker Server

Advanced. Athenaeum Pro 8.0, 8.5, Athenaeum Light 7 and 10 are compatible with this version of FileMaker Pro, without change.

We do not require you to update to version 11.

If you are purchasing additional copies of FileMaker Pro 11 to add to your network, you can mix it in with earlier versions.

Future versions of Athenaeum will eventually take advantage of various features that FileMaker Pro 11 offers..

Kamar & Fees

We are currently working with the folk at Kamar on integrating Athenaeum fees (fines) into the fees module of Kamar.

With a little luck, this will be demonstrated at next month's Kamar conference in Wellington.

Athenaeum Notes

The Athenaeum Notes pages has some new content - please do have a look.

Short Office Closure

SumWare Consulting's office will be reduced to light administration tasks from Tuesday 23 April to Friday 26 April. Phones will still be available, though tasks restricted to administrative duties only. This is the first time we have closed the office for more than 1 day in 15 years!
